

Unexpected Foreign Body induced refracted Maxillary Sinusitis

Bassel Hallak¹, Jean-Pierre Bühler¹, and Salim Bouayed¹

¹Sion Hospital Valais Romand Hospital Center

January 5, 2021

Abstract

Foreign bodies' impact in paranasal sinuses are unusual clinical conditions and most often occur in the maxillary sinus. Odon-togenic sources induce maxillary sinusitis in approximately 10 to 12% of cases. Iatrogenic dental manipulation is the most common cause of foreign bodies' impaction in the maxillary sinus.

