

Figure 2: Isotopic ratios of all the precipitation samples compressed into a single year period. Non-effective points represent the samples that were tentatively discarded as evapotranspired after the recharge model. Lines represent the seasonal variations according to the best fits of Eq(4).